Objective (100 words): Soil testing is now an intrinsic part of modern farming in the West, as well as in many developing countries. So we arrange practical demo for soil and water testing under guidance of Gaurav Pethe, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry of our college at NSS camp. He gave importance and all detailed information for process of soil and water testing facility at taluka level. Tests primarily focus on the elements in most demand by crops which are supplied by fertilizers: nitrogen (N), phosphorus (P), and potassium (K). Depending upon the soil types, in some regions tests are also conducted for secondary nutrients: calcium (Ca), magnesium (Mg), and sulfur (S). In drier areas, micronutrients such as iron (Fe), zinc (Zn), manganese (Mn), copper (Cu), and boron (B) are often measured, since deficiencies of these elements are more frequently associated with calcareous soils. Farmers are the very important part of society. A farm which is used for farming it has two main parts one is soil and second is water. So it is necessity to check the parameters regarding the soil and water
